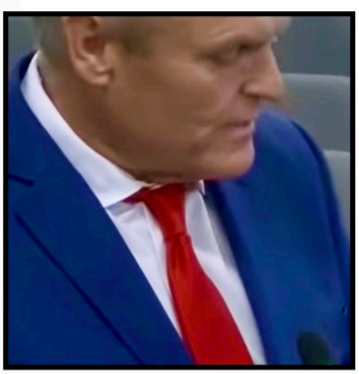
Chris Burke Testimony



I am Chris Burke a United States Surfing Champion and professional surfer who graced the cover of Surfing Magazine. Co-founder of two iconic action sports companies, Arnette and VonZipper, taking both from concept through to acquisition. International missionary with Youth With A Mission, spending 18 months living abroad. Co-founder of Surfers for Missions International, where I spent four years in Indonesia. Certified Substance Abuse Counselor with over 10,000 supervised counseling hours. Proud single Christian father of an 11-year-old boy; we surf contests regularly, have both made the West Coast Championships together, and enjoy international surf mission trips. Together, we co-founded Everything Peace, an anti-bullying nonprofit that shares God's love and peace with the world through a daily devotion and anti-bullying campaigns at elementary schools and churches.

However, my life's true work is defined by a journey of supernatural experiences. From hearing God's voice as a child to a profound encounter where He used a scarecrow to direct my life, I've learned that God is always speaking to but it is only received when we are willing to listen. My testimony is about the cost of saying 'yes' to Gim, specifically when He called me to challenge deception within the church through the 'God Memo.' I've paid a high price for standing against that organized, dark mindset, as Christopher and I are committed to a ministry of reconciliation, helping the body of Christ strip away end-times deception so we can all return to the truth."

Early Divine Encounters & Calling

“The boy Samuel ministered before the Lord under Eli. In those days the word of the Lord was rare; there were not many visions... Then the Lord called ‘Samuel.’” 1 Samuel 3:1–4

I have known God since I could think and remember. While sitting in a pew as a young child, looking up at Jesus Christ on the cross, an audible voice said, “I am Jesus, the Son of God.” From that time on, I had a supernatural assuredness in my personality—a quiet, constant peace that I carried with me.

God Speaks in the Despair

“Because he holds fast to me in love, I will deliver him; I will protect him, because he knows my name. When he calls to me, I will answer him; I will be with him in trouble; I will rescue him and honor him. With long life I will satisfy him and show him my salvation.” Psalm 91:14–16

When I was 12 years old, my life changed overnight. My mother left my father and me, and two months later, my father left as well. I was alone in our family beach house in Cayucos. My middle-upper-class, beach-boy childhood evaporated, and I was left to face the world with a learning disability and no understanding of how society functioned. I was scared, overwhelmed, and completely alone.

One calm evening, I sat at our surf spot, “Killers,” outside of town, crying out to God in total despair. Suddenly, a strong, swirling wind rose up—the kind that makes the grass sway violently—and

I heard the second audible voice. It was different from the quiet voice I heard in church; this was a calm, soothing, authoritative, and loving sound, as real as the sunrise. It said, “Chris, I love you and will protect you all the days of your life, and you will affect a sea of people in my name.” Looking back, I realize I was never actually alone; God was with me the entire time.

Scarecrow Chronicles & The Vision of Judgement

The Scarecrow Chronicles

“Like a scarecrow in a cucumber field, their idols cannot speak; they must be carried because they cannot walk. Do not fear them; they can do no harm, and they can do no good.” Jeremiah 10:5

Years later, I was at a Christian recovery ranch. As a creative marketing co-founder in action sports, I wanted to launch a non-profit campaign featuring a scarecrow I had found in the garden. I traveled the California coast, creating photos and poems, which eventually led to a successful collaboration with Billabong and Fred Segal.

During the creative process, God prompted me to read the Bible. I resisted, wanting to stick to my strict regimen of prayer, reading, and exercise. God persisted, giving me an urgent instruction to go to the bathroom with the Bible. I obeyed, and when I flipped it open, it landed on Jeremiah 10:5. I had never read this before. My pastor, George Hulse, later confirmed that this is the only place in the Bible where the word “scarecrow” appears. That day, I went into a trance for three hours, realizing the depth of God’s guidance in even the smallest artistic details.

The Vision of Judgement

“Then I saw a great white throne and him who was seated on it... The dead were judged according to what they had done as recorded in the books... Anyone whose name was not found written in the book of life was thrown into the lake of fire.” Revelation 20:11–15

I had a vision one morning of standing in an infinite, cosmic arena before God. He asked me, “I have given you these great talents that you used for yourself and your companies. What have you done for me and my kingdom?”

There I was—in real-time, standing naked before God—with absolutely nothing to show for my life. It was the most overwhelming, devastating feeling a human could endure. As a regular church-goer and former missionary, I was stunned to find I had no answer. I had been given special talents, but I hadn’t used them for His kingdom. I spent the rest of the day trying to dismiss the experience and return to my “practical” life, but I knew I had been called to more.

The God Memo & Targeted Victim Abuse

The God Memo

“This is what the Lord Almighty, the God of Israel, says: Reform your ways and your actions, and I will let you live in this place... Has this house, which bears my Name, become a den of robbers to you? But I have been watching! declares the Lord.” Jeremiah 7:1–15

While attending Calvary Chapel Santa Barbara, I began to notice a dark undercurrent of group stalking—also known as gang stalking—happening within the church. It was being carried out by leaders and members alike. God gave me a clear instruction: “Write a letter to the church.”

I resisted, knowing the cost. I feared the isolation and being labeled mentally ill or drug-addicted. I asked God, “Who am I to call out the church?” He responded, “If I can use a donkey to send my memo, I can send you.” When the youth leader bullied my son and his mother, I knew it was time. I wrote the letter that Monday morning.

250 Police Reports Zero Arrest & Targeted Abuse

Chris Burke is a father, former ASP pro surfer, and certified substance abuse counselor in Santa Barbara who has spent the past decade fighting to protect his son through ten years of relentless group stalking, harassment, and physical and sexual violence—spanning roughly 250 police reports, zero arrests, and nine moves to stay safe. Even when everyday spaces like surf contests, gyms, youth sports, and recovery meetings became targets, he has shown up for his son every day and channeled his experience into Everything Peace (everythingpeace.org), building practical healing and safety tools to confront intimidation and stand up for peaceful community life. Under the biblical practice of the ministry of reconciliation. All this is from God, who reconciled us to himself through Christ and gave us the ministry of reconciliation 2 Cor 5;18

Conclusion & Ministry of Reconciliation

All this is from God, who reconciled us to himself through Christ and gave us the ministry of reconciliation 2 cor 5;18

Writing this letter was the price Christopher and I paid. But the mission is clear: we must expose the deception within the body of Christ. It is my firm belief that moving forward, all church leaders must acknowledge and vow against this dark influence. It is the only way to protect the congregation and return to the truth of God's word. It was not easy; I faced spiritual attacks to the exstent it felt as if I had a spiritual hit on my spirit man from the this present darkness that took me second from my life. But I have realized that we are living in a time similar to the biblical Exodus. There is a dark, satanic mindset that has infiltrated various institutions—judges, police, teachers, and pastors alike—all linked by an illegal, secret tracking app.This marked the beginning of our ministry of reconciliation called Everythingpeace.org.
