Not One Law, Not One Bible Verse: Domestic Terrorist Group strips away families constitutional rights without accountability

By Chris Burke for We the People

Community stalking is an abomination that finds no shelter in American jurisprudence and no sanctuary in the Holy Scriptures. There is not a single constitutional statute that authorizes it, and not one biblical verse that defends it. It is an illicit, indefensible practice that exists entirely outside the bounds of civilized law and divine righteousness.

Those who participate in or enable organized harassment often cloak their actions in secrecy, yet they remain exposed by the very systems they seek to circumvent. To engage in collective intimidation is to fundamentally reject both the legal bedrock of the United States and the absolute moral commands of God. Organized harassment has no legitimacy, no defense, and no support.

To understand why this is the case, we must examine the clear conflict between these malicious tactics and our legal and moral foundations.

My Experience with domestic Terrorist Group who stole my Conditional rights

I am Chris Burke, a father, former ASP pro surfer, and certified substance abuse counselor in Santa Barbara who has spent the past decade fighting to protect my son through ten years of relentless group stalking, harassment, and physical and sexual violence—spanning roughly 250 police reports, zero arrests, and nine moves to stay safe. Even when everyday spaces like surf contests, gyms, youth sports, and recovery meetings became targets, I have shown up for my son every day and channeled my experience into Everything Peace (everythingpeace.org), building practical healing and safety tools to confront intimidation and stand up for peaceful community life. Now, my son has been taken from me, and I was arrested illegally with made-up charges in retaliation—leaving me currently homeless, without income, and without a way to support my family due to these domestic terrorist groups, as they continue to terrorize without accountability or consequences.

NEVER.

PART 2: TWO BLOG POST OPTIONS — FREEDOM-FIGHT PRIORITY

OPTION 1: Constitutional & Scriptural Liberty Lead (Lead with Right to Liberty & First Amendment Redress)

Headline: Standing Firm for Liberty: Why Constitutional Rights and Federal Law Must Protect Fathers and Families

Lead Hook: "It is for freedom that Christ has set us free. Stand firm, then, and do not let yourselves be burdened again by a yoke of slavery." — Galatians 5:1. For ten relentless years, a single father and his minor son endured targeted, malicious harassment while repeated pleas for protection went unanswered. This is not merely a personal battle—it is a frontline fight for constitutional liberty, parental rights, and the rule of law in America.

Core Freedom-Fight Framing: Reorders the three pillars to lead with the RIGHT TO LIBERTY (Galatians 5:1 & First Amendment right to petition the government for a redress of grievances), followed by the RIGHT TO LIFE (Genesis 1:27 & Declaration of Independence), and the PURSUIT OF HAPPINESS (Micah 4:4—living without fear). Emphasizes that when civil authorities fail to stop a decade-long campaign of terror, citizens must invoke Title 18 U.S.C. Sections 241, 242, and 245 to hold co-conspirators and color-of-law actors accountable to the fullest extent of federal law.

Blog Call-to-Action & Closing: When is the last time anyone went up against the Constitution of the United States and won? NEVER. Stand with fathers, defend unalienable rights, and demand full enforcement of federal civil rights statutes.

OPTION 2: Father-Son Testimony & Grassroots Patriot Narrative (Human-Interest & Justice Focus)

Headline: Ten Years of Terror, One Unbroken Bond: A Father and Son's Fight for Justice Under God and the Constitution

Lead Hook: Every father has a sacred duty to shield his child from evil. Yet when repeated pleas to stop ten years of willful, malicious trauma are ignored, fighting back with truth, Scripture, and federal law becomes an act of survival and patriotism.

Core Freedom-Fight Framing: Centers on the father-son freedom fight against systemic abuse and color-of-law deprivation of rights. Highlights how endurance under fire forged an unbreakable father-son bond and sharpened spiritual and practical resilience. Frames Title 18 U.S.C. §§ 241, 242, and 245 not as abstract statutes, but as the teeth of the Declaration of Independence—proving that unalienable rights to Life, Liberty, and the Pursuit of Happiness are endowed by the Creator and cannot be stripped away by conspirators or institutional inaction.

Blog Call-to-Action & Closing: Concludes with the sworn California declaration, celebrating civic engagement at the ballot box and reaffirming that constitutional justice ultimately prevails.
